Office of Legislative Counsel

Thursday - 17 December 1953

- - - -

1. Mr. Pforzheimer and Mr. Houston met with Mr. William Rogers, Deputy Attorney General, and discussed various current aspects of the Davies case. (See Memorandum for the Record this date prepared by Mr. Houston).

2. The Director has approved completely the proposals for Congressional luncheons set forth in my memorandum of 16 December 1953. However, Congressman Vorys will not be available for luncheon next week as he is returning to Ohio and will have to put him over until the return of Congress.

3. Mr. Wilcox, of the staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, informed me that he and Senator Smith will be available for debriefing at 2:30 on 18 December and the debriefing has been set up for that date in the Director's conference room. The DCI is scheduled to attend. ^{25X1}

6. [redacted] office came to talk to me regarding arrangements for certain Congressional debriefings as [redacted] has been ^{25X1A} given the responsibility for setting up all Agency debriefings insofar as DD/P is concerned. (In the case of Congressional debriefings, the General realizes that they will be cleared through my office). During the course of the conversation, however, it was pointed out that there actually was no central point of responsibility in the Agency for debriefings.
